

Title (Units): SCI7501 DISSERTATION I (3,0,9)

Syllabus Reviewed by: Michael Ng

Prerequisite and Co-requisite: None

Objectives: This subject guides students in the development of research methodology appropriate to the practice of Operational Research and Business Statistics, and gives students the opportunity to work on problems of Operational Research and Business Statistics that have real-world significance.

Calendar Description: This is an individual dissertation which usually relates to the Operational Research and Business Statistics, and requires knowledge and skill acquired in the course. A thesis and an oral presentation are required upon completion of the project

Assessment: Continuous assessment (30%), Thesis (50%) and Oral presentation (20%)