

Computational Methods For Superresolution Imaging

Michael K. Ng

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS, HONG KONG BAPTIST UNIVERSITY, HONG KONG

mng@hkbu.edu.hk

In this talk, we discuss some computational methods for superresolution imaging in zooming, video and remote sensing. Numerical examples are given to illustrate the effectiveness of proposed models and computational methods.